HAVE A PLAN

Every farmer should have a definite plan to follow, says Prof. S. F. Morse, supt. of the U. of A. Agricultural Extension Service and State Leader, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Many farmers are failing to make good because they are continually jumping from one kind of crop or livestock to another in the hope of "getting rich quick." The surest way to success in any farming in Arizona is to determine from the information and data available what type of farming is best adapted to one's local conditions, plan out the farm development for a series of years, and then stick to the plan. Such a plan should take into consideration the farmer himself, the soil, the climate, size of farm, market and the transportation facilities and the farmer's pocketbook. It must be evident to any one that the farmer who works along a certain definite farming plan is going to know more about the business than a farmer who changes his practice every year.

The experts of the U. of A. Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station are anxious to help farmers prepare such working plans for the development of their ranches.

ARE YOU AN HEIR?

Again the question of foreign estates has been brought up, and the Spare Moments Publishing Company, of Allentown, Pennsylvania, is authority for the statement that "it is estimated that there are something like 60,000 persons scattered throughout the United States and Canada who are entitled to money and lands now tied up in the English high court of chancery and elsewhere, owing to the inability of lawyers to locate the claimants."

Spare Moments has compiled and published the names, and its enterprise in getting together a list that has been advertised for during more than a century, and which covers authentic estates, has attracted attention in the national capital, where the problems of American heirs to foreign estates, has created no end of trouble. That these estates exist is without question, but this is the first time an American publishing house has undertaken to ferret out and assist real heirs.

Splendid Medicine
Stomach TroubleI Suffered for Several Years
Peruna Restored My Health

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, No. 508 Twelfth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am pleased to endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for stomach trouble, from which I suffered for several years. I took it for several months and at the end of that time found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Over Ten Years Ago.

"I would not be without Peruna. Although it was over ten years ago that I first gave you my testimonial, I am of the same opinion as when I wrote it, and give you the privilege to use it as you see fit. I still use Peruna when I think it necessary. I am recommending it to my neighbors whenever a chance occurs."

books and pictures and good music. What's more, they are getting what they want. It's a small town nowadays that does not have its few really good concerts each year, which help to spread the gospel that find music is not necessarily dull music. Once most Americans subscribed to that opinion. Now many of them, an increasing number each year, know it is not true.

Many a city advertises its location, its advantages in a business way, on the envelopes it sends to the outer world. Cleveland had a big spell of "Cleveland, the Sixth City," after the last census came out. Now it's lying rather low hoping for a chance to change its sixth to fourth. Chico (Cal.) has a festive little paper seal which makes known its importance in the national structure to those not so fortunate as to dwell there. But it remains for Aberdeen, S. D., to notify a waiting world of its music festival.

"Fourteenth Annual May Musical Festival," the envelopes in bright red ink. "Aberdeen, S. D., May 29-31, and June 1, Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra—Aberdeen Choral Society of Nine Soloists." Doesn't it make you want to go? That Minneapolis orchestra is a good one—too. Even New York has to admit it last winter.

The population of Aberdeen is under 14,000.

Well, why not advertise the civic enterprise in the field of art?

DERNBURG AS A TROUBLE-MAKER

We are a patient and long-suffering people. Otherwise we could hardly have stood so long as we have for Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, the press agent of the German government and head of the German propaganda in this country. We have tolerated the efforts of this alien trouble-maker to line up one class of American citizens against the rest, when an American engaged in similar activity in Germany would have been jailed or shot.

We are told that love is blind. Such being the case, what shall we do about it? Who wants to be blind, since a blind man can't see the danger signals?

ARIZONA GAINS BY INTERMOUNTAIN RATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—Denying the application of transcontinental railroads and near coast terminals for a modification of the intermountain order, the interstate commerce commission today prescribed back-haul charges from the Pacific coast terminals and fixed maximum rates for commodities at the first and second class from the Missouri river in less than carload lots.

In its order the commission authorizes the railroads to construct rates to back haul points by adding not over 75 per cent of the local rate back from the water terminal to the destination, or to add an arbitrary rate not to exceed 75 per cent of the local rate. The existing order was further modified as it affected less than carload rates from the Missouri river to points in intermountain territory. The maximum for goods in first and second class was fixed at $1.72 per 100 lbs., in cases where the through rate to the coast is lower.

TWO OLD-TIMERS

WILL GO PROSPECTING Harry McPhaul and B. Green expect to leave this evening to look up some mining claims near Castle Dome. Mr. Green lived in Yuma in 1871, 44 years ago, coming to Yuma accompanied by his father, J. C. Green, driving a herd of cattle from Sanderson, Texas, to Yuma. Fifty miles on this side of San Antonio one of their cowboys was killed in a fight with Indians.

Twenty years ago Mr. Green visited Yuma again and saw some good rock in the hills, which are now a part of Harry McPhaul's claims, and the two will prospect together. Mr. Green is 57 years of age.

Arthur J. B. Apsey has taken over the restaurant at Gadsden and will move to that thriving young city today and take charge. In connection with the restaurant he will conduct a cold drink emporium.

Miss Marcella MacBenth is still confined to her home, as a result of injuries sustained in a runaway accident six weeks ago. It will probably be months before she is restored to her usual health.

"WINTERHAVEN" TO BE OPENED ACROSS RIVER

Winterhaven is the name of a new town on the reservation, for many years the "Jaeger Ranch," until the fall of 1909, when the Yuma project Land and Townsite company undertook the sale of town lots and the town was named "Karnack" at the suggestion of Hon. P. T. Robertson.

The promoter, C. C. Dunn, died in the midst of his work and the new town was lost track of until now, under the new name of "Winterhaven," it promises great things. Graders have been busy recently leveling the lands and laying out the streets.

L. J. F. Jaeger, whose father took up the land many years ago and made his home among the Yuma Indians is now prominently identified with Tucson business interests and owns a large hotel there.

"HOW TO LIVE
ONE HUNDRED YEARS"

THIS IS THE NAME OF A NEW BOOK BY EUGENE CHRISTIAN, F. S. D.

Eugene Christian, F. S. D., the world's greatest Food Scientist, has just published a new book called "How to Live 100 Years."

This book tells you what to eat according to your age, your work and the time of the year. It teaches you how to select, how to combine and so as to establish perfect digestion and assimilation of food and perfect elimination of waste. In other words, it teaches you how to cure all stomach and intestinal disorders by removing their causes, which is wrong eating.

If you have indigestion, gas, fermentation, sour stomach or any such disorders after a meal, this book tells you how to put the remedy on your table at the next meal.

Dr. Christian shows that all animals how to proportion your food at meals except man live about eight times as long as it takes them to get their growth. If man should do this he would live nearly 200 years; but civilized man dies at the average age of 39. He begins to lose his teeth, his eyes and his hair, and drops into his grave only a few years after he is grown.

Dr. Christian shows that 22 per cent of all the human beings born into the world die before they are one year old. Twenty-five per cent more die before their fifth birthday, and more than half of the human race die before they are twenty-five.

All other animals on the globe live eight times as long as it takes them to get their growth. Man breathes the same air, drinks the same water, lives under the same sunshine, but differs from his brother animals only in his eating, therefore Dr. Christian shows conclusively that this appalling discrepancy must be on account of his eating habits and he has proved that his theory is true by curing over 23,000 people within the past ten years by teaching them what to eat and how to eat. "How to Live 100 Years," gives the secret of his methods.

This book does not disarrange or upset the family table. It teaches the housewife what foods the meal should be composed of, so as to make them chemically harmonious and perfectly digestible and healthy.

This book is beautifully bound in velvet, and gold lettered. Send one dollar to Dr. Eugene Christian, 213 West 79th Street, New York City, and you will receive this life-saving book by return mail, and if it is not worth its weight in gold your money will be promptly refunded to you.
